

A-Core Container

What size battery does the vgpbms10 use

Overview

---

Turn the mouse over to open the battery compartment cover. Insert the two supplied LR03 (size AAA) batteries using the correct +/- orientation. Close the battery compartment cover. Under normal operating conditions, a set of alkaline batteries lasts about one and a half months*.

Turn the mouse over to open the battery compartment cover. Insert the two supplied LR03 (size AAA) batteries using the correct +/- orientation. Close the battery compartment cover. Under normal operating conditions, a set of alkaline batteries lasts about one and a half months*.

1 Close the button cover to turn off the mouse. cover. Insert the two supplied LR03 (size AAA) batteries using the correct +/- orientation. 3 Close the battery compartment cover. Under normal operating conditions, a set of alkaline batteries lasts about one and a half months*. When cursor movement.

* This estimate is based on five hours of use per day, five days per week. This may vary depending on usage environment. * Due to the nature of the laser sensor, the mouse may not function properly if used on transparent surfaces or on surfaces that reflect light (such as glass or mirrors). Never.

Insert the batteries with the correct +/- orientation. Do not charge dry cell batteries. Do not mix old and new batteries, or batteries of a different type. If the mouse has not been used for a long time, remove the batteries. If a battery fluid leak occurs, carefully wipe the battery compartment.

Inserting batteries into the mouse 1 Close the button cover to turn off the mouse. 2 Turn the mouse over to open the battery compartment cover. Insert the two supplied LR03 (size AAA) batteries using the correct +/- orientation. 3 Close the battery compartment cover. z Hint Under normal operating.

- Insert the batteries with the correct +/- orientation.
- Do not charge dry cell batteries.
- Do not mix old and new batteries, or batteries of a different type.
- If the mouse has not been used for a long time, remove the batteries. insert new batteries. replacing the batteries. manufactured for.

1 Close the button cover to turn off the mouse. cover. Insert the two supplied LR03 (size AAA) batteries using the correct +/- orientation. 3 Close the battery compartment cover. one and a half months*. When cursor movement becomes sluggish and the decreases, check the status light on the mouse.

What size battery does the vgpbms10 use

---

Contact Us

---

For catalog requests, pricing, or partnerships, please visit:
<https://www.a-core.pl>